

PRESIDENT ARTHUR VISITS MONCTON, N.B., CANADA

ROTARY INTERNATIONAL OFFICE
AUG 28 1950

Wednesday, July 26th was a red letter day, as in all clubs, when the President of Rotary International makes a visit. So, we in Moncton, New Brunswick, Canada, were privileged to see, hear and entertain President Arthur Lagueux and his charming wife Christine.

The members of the Moncton Club held its weekly meeting in the Brunswick Hotel on Wednesday instead of its regular day - Monday. To this meeting were invited the members of the Shediac Club and representatives of the various service clubs of the city. Greetings were extended the visitors by Mayor Babbitt Parlee and the thanks of those, who heard President Arthur's challenging speech, were extended by Fred Murphy, President of the Shediac Club. President Arthur was introduced by Rotarian Jim Norton, the one who was responsible for ~~organizing~~ the Moncton Club.

After Luncheon, President Russell Miller of the Moncton Club drove President Arthur ~~out~~ to Moncton's Natural Park ~~where~~ where with Jim Norton, the Club's representative on the executive of Playtime Projects Ltd., Past District Governor George Spencer, and Secretary Clarence Nickerson, they viewed the progress being made on the swimming pool and bath and shower house. This project is sponsored by all the service clubs of Moncton.

Then to Magnetic Hill (see cut) where the laws of gravity are seemingly reversed. Drive the car down hill - apparently - and it rolls back up. We imagine that President Arthur and his wife Christine are still trying to figure out how it works.

The Rotaryans of the Moncton and Shediac Clubs entertained Christine at a luncheon at the Shediac Inn.

That evening our distinguished visitors flew over to Charlottetown for a dinner meeting with the Charlottetown and Summerside Clubs. The next morning President Russell and wife Katherine met our visitor's at Moncton's Airport and they were fortunate on their way in to the City to view the Tidal Bore - which is the tide coming in as a wave of varying height, from a ripple to between three and six feet, depending on the season of the year and the moon.

Then following breakfast President Arthur ^{and Christine} said good-bye to President Russell and Katherine and motored to Amherst, N.S. for their next meeting.
